Report of Independent Auditors

The Board of Directors and Stockholders
Evergreen Marine Corporation

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of Evergreen Marine Corporation (the "Company") as of June 30, 2005 and 2004, and the related statements of income, changes in stockholders' equity and cash flows for the six months then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We did not audit the financial statements of all the investee companies accounted for under the equity method. Those statements were audited by other auditors whose reports have been furnished to us, and our opinion expressed herein, insofar as it related to amounts included for those investee companies accounted for under the equity method, is based solely on the reports of other auditors. Those statements reflect long-term investments of 45,677,342 thousand New Taiwan dollars and 41,351,372 thousand New Taiwan dollars, constituting 49.20% and 49.32% of the total assets as of June 30, 2005 and 2004, respectively, and reflect net investment income of 3,042,721 thousand New Taiwan dollars and 3,886,864 thousand New Taiwan dollars, constituting 40.82% and 77.12% of the pre-tax net income for the six months ended June 30, 2005 and 2004, respectively.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the "Regulations for Auditing and Certification of Financial Statements by Certified Public Accountants" and auditing standards generally accepted in the Republic of China on Taiwan. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits and the reports of other auditors provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, based on our audits and the reports of other auditors, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Evergreen Marine Corporation as of June 30, 2005 and 2004, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the six months then ended in conformity with the "Guidelines for Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers" and accounting principles generally accepted in the Republic of China on Taiwan.

We have also reviewed the consolidated financial statements of Evergreen Marine Corporation and its subsidiaries as of and for the six months ended June 30, 2005, on which we have issued an unqualified opinion with explanatory paragraph thereon.

These estimation and assumptions would affect the amounts stated in the balance sheet on the balance sheet date, disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities, and the amounts of revenues and expenses for the accounting period. However, there might be differences between the actual result and estimation.
- (2) Accrued expenses are recorded at the amounts stated in the original supporting documents. Foreign port charges without supporting documents are estimated as per past records and period-end sailing schedules. Differences between the expenses actually incurred in the following year and the estimated accrued expenses are credited or charged to operating costs or expenses in the following year.

3. Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents are cash, unrestricted bank deposits and other highly liquid investments.

4. Short-term investments

Short-term investments are initially stated at cost determined by the moving weighted-average method and restated at the lower of cost or market value method on the balance sheet date. The market value of listed equity securities is determined by the average closing prices in the last month of the accounting period. The market values for foreign stocks and domestic open-end mutual funds are determined by their closing prices and the net worth per share on the balance sheet date, respectively. Any loss on declines in market value is recorded as current non-operating loss. The loss on the decline in market value or gain on the market price recovery is recorded as current non-operating loss or income. Stock dividends received are accounted for as an increase in the number of shares held rather than investment income, and the average cost per share is recomputed accordingly on a weighted-average basis.

5. Allowance for doubtful accounts

The allowance for doubtful accounts is provided based on the collectibility and aging analysis of notes and accounts receivable and other receivables.

6. Other financial assets

Other financial assets are the financial assets other than cash and cash equivalents, short-term investments, notes and accounts receivable, long-term equity and bond investments, restricted bank deposits, and refundable deposits.

7. Inventories

Fuel inventories are physically measured by the crew of each ship and reported back to the Head Office through telegraph for recording purpose at year-end. Valuation of inventories is based on the exchange rate prevailing at the end of the fiscal year.

8. Long-term equity investments

(1) Long-term equity investments are stated at historical cost and revalued at the end of the fiscal year. For the investee companies in which the Company holds less than 20% of the voting shares or over which the Company cannot exercise significant influence, the lower of cost or market value method is applied if the investees are listed companies. The unrealized loss resulting from the decline in market value of such investments is charged to stockholders' equity. If the investees are non-listed companies, the cost method is applied. When the loss in investment value is permanent and the possibility of a recovery in value is remote, the book value is adjusted and an investment loss is recognized accordingly.

(2) The equity method is applied where the Company holds more than 20% of the voting shares or can exercise significant influence over the investees. The difference between the investment cost and the stocks' net worth is amortized over five years on a straight-line basis. Unrealized gains (losses) arising from the transactions between the Company and its investees and the inter-investee transactions are eliminated. For the investee companies in which the Company holds more than 50% of the voting shares, the equity method is applied and the accounts of those investees are required to be consolidated into those of the Company.

- (3) Foreign currency denominated financial statements of overseas subsidiaries and investees are translated into New Taiwan dollars in accordance with the Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 14, "Accounting for Foreign Currency Transactions and Translation of Foreign Financial Statements". The translation differences are recorded as "cumulative translation adjustments" under stockholders' equity.
- (4) The consolidated financial statements of the Company and its subsidiaries are prepared in accordance with the SFAS No. 7, "Consolidated Financial Statements". The investees in which the Company directly or indirectly holds more than 50% of the voting shares, and the investees in which the Company directly or indirectly holds less than 50% of the voting shares but has substantial controlling power are required to be included in the consolidated financial statements.

9. Property, plant and equipment

- (1) Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost plus capitalized interest and less accumulated depreciation and impairment. Expenditures incurred on major improvements or renewals that will increase the efficiency or prolong the useful lives of the assets are capitalized. Other expenditures related to regular maintenance and repairs are expensed as incurred. Gains or losses on disposal of property, plant and equipment are credited or charged to non-operating income in the year of disposal.
- (2) Depreciation is calculated on a straight-line basis according to the respective assets' useful lives regulated by the Authority plus one year for salvage value.
- (3) For ships and equipment that are still in use after expiration of their useful life, depreciation is provided based on the original method and the reassessed useful life and salvage value. For other assets that are still in use after expiration of their useful life, depreciation is provided based on the original method to the extent that the salvage value falls below $3,000. Where impairment loss is recognized, property, plant and equipment shall be depreciated over their remaining useful life based on their carrying value adjusted for the impairment loss.

10. Asset impairment

Pursuant to SFAS No. 35, the Company assesses indicators for impairment for all its assets within the scope of SFAS No. 35 on each balance sheet date. If impairment indicators exist, the Company shall then compare the carrying amount with the recoverable amount of the assets or the cash-generating unit ("CGU") and write down the carrying amount to the recoverable amount where applicable. Recoverable amount is defined as the higher of fair values less costs to sell and the values in use.

For previously recognized losses, the Company shall assess, on each balance sheet date, whether there is any indication that the impairment loss may no longer exist or may have decreased. If there is any such indication, the Company is required to recalculate the recoverable amount of the asset. If the recoverable amount increases as a result of the increase in the estimated service potential of the assets, the Company shall reverse the impairment loss to the extent that the carrying amount after the reversal would not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined (net of amortization or depreciation) had no impairment loss been recognized for the assets in prior years. Impairment loss (reversal) is classified as non-operating losses/(income).

11. Deferred charges

Deferred charges refer to the expenses incurred on the use of container yards, issuance of corporate bonds, computer software and cable installation. The charges are amortized on a straight-line basis over seven years for the use of container yards and the issuing period for corporate bond issuance with the rest being amortized over 2-3 years.

12. Convertible bonds

- (1) The difference between the issue price and face value of convertible corporate bonds is accounted for as premium or discount which is required to be amortized over the period from the date of issuance to maturity date in accordance with the interest method. Premium or discount on convertible corporate bonds with redemption options is required to be amortized over the period from the date of issuance to the expiry date of the redemption right. The excess of the redemption price over the face value of the convertible bonds is recognized as liability on interest compensation under the interest method during the period from the date of issuance to the expiry date of the redemption right.
- (2) Conversion of convertible bonds is accounted for by the book value method. The unamortized premium or discount, issuance cost, accrued interest payable, interest payable by the bondholders, liability on interest compensation and the face value of the bonds are netted on the date of conversion, and the resulting net amount is reversed accordingly. The excess of the net amount over the par value of the converted stock is recorded as capital surplus.
- (3) Where the bondholders do not exercise the redemption option before it expires, the interest compensation is amortized according to the interest method over the period from the date following the expiry date of the redemption option to the maturity date of the bonds. Where the market price of the stocks that can be converted from the convertible bonds on the expiry date of the redemption option exceeds the redemption price, the interest compensation recognized is reclassified to capital surplus.

13. Long-term liabilities

The liabilities that expire within twelve months from the balance sheet date are recorded as long-term liabilities when the following conditions are met:

- (1) The original contract period exceeds twelve months;
- (2) The Company intends to do a long-term refinancing; and
- (3) The liabilities are refinanced or rolled over before the financial statements are issued.

14. Pensions

- (1) The Company's pension plan applies to all permanent employees. For the first fifteen years of service, two points are rewarded for each year of service. For service period exceeding 15 years, one point is rewarded for each additional year of service with a maximum of 45 points allowed. Pensions paid upon retirement are based on the service period and the average monthly salary of the six months prior to the approval of retirement. The Company's staff retirement and relief scheme has been revised several times and was approved by the Taipei City Government. The main purpose of the revision is to allow the employees transferred to related companies to apply for pensions as retired employees.

- (2) Pursuant to the letter (91) Fu-Lao-2-Tze 09132271100 issued by the Taipei City Government on May 22, 2002 and the letter (91) Cai-Pei-Kuo-Shui-Shen-1-Tze 091003376 issued by the National Tax Administration (NTA) of Taipei on May 31, 2002, the Company revised the contribution rate for pension fund from 10.76% of the total monthly salary to 8.25% starting from March 2002. Pursuant to the letter (92) Bei-Shi-Lao-2-Tze 09232103200 issued by the Taipei City Government and the letter (92) Cai-Pei-Kuo-Shui-Shen-1-Tze 0920046375 issued by the NTA of Taipei on May 13, 2003, the contribution rate for pension fund was revised again from 8.25% of the total monthly salary to 9.6% starting from April 2003. The pension fund is deposited with the Central Trust of China in an exclusive account.
- (3) In accordance with the SFAS No. 18, "Accounting for Pensions", the Company has recognized pension costs based on the actuarial report since 1995. Additionally, in accordance with the SFAS No. 23, "Presentation and Disclosure of Interim Reporting", disclosure of the pension information is not required for interim financial reporting.
- (4) The Labor Pension Act ( "the Act" ), which adopts a defined contribution scheme, takes effect from July 1, 2005. In accordance with the Act, employees of the Company may elect to be subject to either the Act, and maintain their seniority before the enforcement of the Act, or the pension mechanism of the Labor Standards Law. For employees subject to the Act, the Company shall make monthly contributions to the employees' individual pension accounts on a basis no less than 6% of the employees' monthly wages.

15. Revenue recognition

Recognition of revenues is accounted for in accordance with the SFAS No. 32, "Accounting for Revenue Recognition".

16. Income taxes

- (1) Projected income tax is estimated based on the expected taxable income for the current year. Difference between the estimated tax and the actual tax paid is recorded as an adjustment to income tax expense for the current year. An additional 10% tax is levied on unappropriated retained earnings, which is recorded as income tax expense for the year when the tax is levied.
- (2) Inter-period and intra-period income taxes are allocated in accordance with the SFAS No. 22, "Accounting for Income Taxes". Income tax effects arising from taxable temporary differences are recognized as deferred income tax liabilities. Income tax effects arising from deductible temporary differences, loss carryforwards and income tax credits are recognized as deferred income tax assets and a valuation allowance is provided based on the expected realizability of the deferred income tax assets.
- (3) Income tax credits are accounted for in accordance with the SFAS No. 12, "Accounting for Income Tax Credits" and are recognized in the year when the related expenditures are incurred.

17. Basic (diluted) earnings per share

Basic earnings per share are calculated based on the net income (loss) attributed to common stockholders and the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding during the period. Any capital increase (reduction) through cash injection (withdrawal), treasury stock transactions or other factors that would cause a change in the number of outstanding shares are incorporated in the calculation on a weighted-average basis according to the circulation period. Adjustments are made retroactively to the weighted-average number of outstanding shares if there is any increase (decrease) in the number of outstanding shares which does not result in changes in the stockholders' percentage of equity interest. Where the effective dates of the above-mentioned events fall between the balance sheet date and the issue date of the financial statements, retroactive adjustments are also required. For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, it is assumed that the convertible bonds are converted into the common stock on the date of issuance of the bonds, and the weighted-average number of outstanding shares is adjusted for the dilutive effects of the convertible bonds.

18. Foreign currency transactions

- (1) The Company maintains its books of accounts in New Taiwan dollars. Transactions denominated in foreign currencies are converted into New Taiwan dollars at the exchange rate prevailing on the transaction date. In accordance with the SFAS No. 14, "Accounting for Foreign Currency Transactions and Translation of Foreign Financial Statements", foreign currency denominated receivables and payables are adjusted on the balance sheet date based on the spot exchange rate on that date. The unrealized foreign exchange gain (loss) due to the adjustment as well as the realized foreign exchange gain (loss) due to the exchange rate fluctuation when the foreign currency denominated receivables or payables are collected or paid off is credited or charged to non-operating income.
- (2) The long-term investments accounted for under the cost method are translated into New Taiwan dollars on the balance sheet date at the spot exchange rate on that date. If the translated amount of the long-term investments is less than their initial cost, their carrying amount is written down to the translated amount, and the difference between the translated amount and the initial cost is recorded as "cumulative translation adjustment" under stockholders' equity. If the translated amount exceeds the initial cost, the carrying amount of the long-term investments is maintained at their initial cost.

19. Derivative financial instruments

Disclosure of derivative financial instruments is accounted for in accordance with the SFAS No. 27, "Disclosure of Financial Instruments". The derivative financial instruments undertaken by the Company and the related accounting policies are summarized below.

(1) Options

Premiums received for options written are recorded as a liability, whereas those paid for options bought are recorded as an asset. When the options are exercised, the premiums are reversed, and the gains or losses arising from the exercise of the option contracts are credited or charged to current income. The options that are outstanding or remain unexercised on the balance sheet date are revalued based on their market prices on that date, and the resulting gains or losses are credited or charged to current income.

(2) Interest rate swaps

Interest rate swaps undertaken for risk hedging purposes are recorded in the memorandum account on the contract date. The interest received or paid upon each settlement, or accrued on the balance sheet date, is recorded as an adjustment to current interest income or expense.

(3) Cross currency swaps

Cross currency swap contracts are undertaken for the Company's borrowings denominated in foreign currencies. The difference between the interest received or paid upon each settlement is recorded as an adjustment to foreign exchange gain or loss.

(4) Forward exchange contracts

Forward exchange contracts undertaken to hedge the exchange rate risk arising from foreign currency denominated receivables and payables are recorded at the spot rate on the contract date, and the difference between the spot rate and the contract rate is amortized over the contract period. On the balance sheet date, the contracts are restated based on the spot rate prevailing on that date, and the resulting exchange difference is credited or charged to current foreign exchange gain. The exchange differences arising from the settlement of the contracts are also credited or charged to current foreign exchange gain. For the forward exchange contracts utilized to hedge exchange rate risk arising from foreign operating branches' net investments, the exchange difference is recorded as cumulative translation adjustment under stockholders' equity.

(5) Oil swaps

Oil swap contracts are undertaken to hedge the fluctuations in oil prices. The amount received or paid on the settlement date is credited or charged to current fuel expense.

C. CHANGES IN ACCOUNTING PRINCIPLES

Effective from January 1, 2005, the Company adopted the SFAS No. 35, "Accounting for Asset Impairment" to account for the impairment of its assets. Under the SFAS No. 35, retroactive adjustments are not required for the asset impairment occurring prior to January 1, 2005. Such a change in the accounting principle has no effect on the Company's net income and earnings per share for the six months ended June 30, 2005.

(a) The investment income recognized for the above investees accounted for under the equity method was based on their financial statements audited by independent auditors for the corresponding periods. For the six months ended June 30, 2005 and 2004, the investment income recognized for these investees amounted to $3,246,511 thousand and $4,014,212 thousand, respectively.

- (b) On June 5, 2003, the Company's Board of Directors resolved to purchase the domestic unsecured convertible bonds issued by EVA Airways Corporation, totaling $500 million (face value). As the Company intended to hold the investment in the above convertible bonds for long-term purposes, they were recorded under long-term bond investments. In March 2004, the Company converted all the convertible bonds into 46,382 thousand shares of EVA Airways' common stock at $10.78 per share. As a result of the conversion, the Company's percentage of equity interest in EVA Airways increased and the investment in the above convertible bonds was reclassified to long-term equity investments, resulting in an increase of $48,751 thousand in capital surplus. In addition, EVA Airways increased its capital through cash injection in September 2004. As a stockholder of EVA Airways, the Company was entitled to a subscription of 39,608 thousand new shares. However, the Company waived its subscription right. Hence, its percentage of equity interest in EVA Airways decreased, resulting in a decrease of $116,351 thousand in capital surplus.
- (c) During the six-month period ended June 30, 2005, the market value of the investment in Well Long Information Co., Ltd., an investee accounted for under the cost method, declined. The Company assessed that the investment cost could not be recovered. As a result, a realized investment loss of $1,300 thousand was recognized based on the carrying value and was recorded under non-operating expenses - other investment loss.
- (d) In February 2004, Fubon Securities Finance Co., Ltd., an investee accounted for under the cost method, reduced its capital. The conversion rate on the capital reduction was 634.921 shares for every 1,000 old shares held, and the amount returned to the stockholders was $10 (par value) per share. As a result of the capital reduction, the proceeds received by the Company based on its proportionate equity interest in Fubon Securities were $113,371 thousand, and the carrying amount of the Company's investment in Fubon Securities was written down by $109,403 thousand. Accordingly, $3,968 thousand of income was generated, which was recorded under "non-operating income - others".
- (e) In August 2004, Taiwan Fixed Network Co., Ltd., an investee accounted for under the cost method, reduced its capital. The conversion rate on the capital reduction was 700 shares for every 1000 old shares held, and the amount returned to the stockholders was $10 (par value) per share. As a result of the capital reduction, the proceeds received by the Company based on its proportionate equity interest in Taiwan Fixed Network were $300 million, and the carrying amount of the Company's investment in Taiwan Fixed Network was written down by $300 million. Hence, no income (loss) was generated.
- (f) The Company previously pledged 300,000 shares of Dongbu Pusan Container Terminal Co., Ltd. (DPCT), an investee accounted for under the cost method, as collaterals for DPCT's borrowings. In June 2004, the Company's Board of Directors resolved to sell these 300,000 shares of DPCT to its related company, Peony Investment S.A., at book value. Please refer to Notes E and F for details.
- (g) As the Company directly holds more than 50% of the voting shares of Peony Investment S.A. and Taiwan Terminal Services Co., Ltd., these two investees were included in the consolidated financial statements of the Company and its subsidiaries as of and for the six months ended June 30, 2005.

In 1997, the Company purchased US$180 thousand of the convertible bonds issued by Tuntex (Thailand) Public Company Limited. As Tuntex encountered financial difficulties, it defaulted at maturity of the bonds. Accordingly, the Company fully recognized the losses on the bonds in 2001. Tuntex subsequently filed an application to the court for corporate restructuring and reached a consensus with the creditors to reissue the above-mentioned bonds. The convertible bonds allocated to the Company were recorded at their face value of THB15,737 thousand (NT$12,581 thousand), and the Company recognized $12,581 thousand income under “non-operating income – others” for the three months ended March 31, 2005.

J. OTHERS

1. Derivative financial instruments

(1) The contract (notional principal) amounts and credit risk (expressed in thousand dollars)

Financial Instruments	June 30, 2005			June 30, 2004
	Notional Principal (Contract Amount)		Credit Risk	Notional Principal (Contract Amount)		Credit Risk
Non-trading purposes
Interest rate swaps (IRS)	US$	159,000	US$1,203	US$	66,000	-
	NT$	2,012,500	-	NT$	2,717,500	-
	EUR	-	-	EUR	25,000	-
Cross currency swaps (CCS)	US$	17,500	-	US$	26,250	-
Oil swaps	US$	17,664	US$6,163	US$	7,118	-
Trading purposes
Foreign exchange options	US$	83,235	-	US$	484,235	-
	EUR	32,000	-	EUR	48,000	-
	JPY	1,920,000	-	JPY	1,920,000	-
	GBP	-	-	GBP	5,000	-

The above credits risk amounts are based on the contracts with positive fair values on the balance sheet date and represent the possible loss that will be incurred by the Company in the event that the counterparties default. The counterparties of the Company are all well-known banks with good credit ratings. Thus, the credit risk is assessed to be remote.

(2) Market risk

Interest rate swaps, cross currency swaps, foreign exchange options, forward exchange contracts and oil swaps are utilized to hedge against fluctuations in interest rates, exchange rates and oil prices. Thus, the market risk is offset against each other. Periodic reviews are conducted on the Company's exposure to market risk, and a stop-loss mechanism has been established to minimize the impact of market risk on the Company's operations.

(3) Liquidity risk, cash flow risk and the amount, timing and uncertainty of future cash requirements

As no principals are exchanged upon settlement of the interest rate swaps, cross currency swaps, forward exchange contracts and foreign exchange options, no significant cash requirement is expected. Therefore, the Company's working capital is assessed to be adequate and no funding risk is expected. In addition, the interest rates, exchange rates and prices are fixed. Thus, cash flow risk is remote.

(4) The purposes and strategies of holding derivative financial instruments

The derivative financial instruments are held for trading and non-trading purposes. Interest rate swaps, cross currency swaps, forward exchange contracts and foreign exchange options are undertaken to hedge against fluctuations in interest rates and exchange rates, whereas oil swaps are used to hedge against fluctuations in oil prices and control the cost within a tolerable limit. The aim of the hedging strategy is to hedge most of the market risk. For the derivative financial instruments held for trading purposes, they are undertaken to make profits on the interest rate, exchange rate and price differentials.

(5) Disclosures of derivative financial instruments in the financial statements

(a) Interest rate swaps

The contracts are settled based on the difference between the spot interest rate and contracted interest rate. The amount received and paid upon settlement is recorded as a deduction from and an addition to the interest expense on shipping finance, respectively.

(b) Cross currency swaps

The difference between the spot exchange rate and the contracted rate is recorded as foreign exchange gain or loss at maturity of the contracts.

(c) Foreign exchange options

As the Company has actual position in the underlying assets, full settlements are conducted at expiration of the contracts. The difference between the spot exchange rate and the contracted rate is recorded as foreign exchange gain or loss upon settlement.

(d) Oil swaps

The contracts are settled based on the difference between the spot oil price and the contracted price. The amount received and paid upon settlement is recorded as a deduction from and an addition to fuel expense.

(6) Financial instruments undertaken to hedge the commitments for expected transactions

Oil swaps are undertaken to fix the oil price within a tolerable limit for future oil usage.

Foreign exchange options	-	US$(2,690)	-	US$ (5,131)
Oil swaps	-	US$ 6,163	-	US$ (3,830)

The methods and assumptions adopted by the Company to estimate the fair values of the above financial instruments are summarized below.

- (1) Fair values of the short-term financial instruments are estimated to be equal to their carrying values. As maturity of these instruments is short, it is reasonable that their fair values equal their carrying values. This method is applied to cash and cash equivalents, notes and accounts receivable, refundable deposits, restricted assets, short-term loans, short-term notes and bills payable, notes and accounts payable, and guarantee deposits received.
- (2) Fair values of marketable securities equal the quoted market prices, if available. If the quoted market prices are not available, fair values are estimated using financial information or other information.
- (3) Fair values of long-term loans are estimated based on the present values of future cash flows. The discount rate is based on the interest rate charged on a comparable long-term loan with similar terms and conditions.

- (4) Fair values of corporate bonds payable equal the quoted market prices, if available. If the quoted market prices are not available, fair values are estimated using financial information or other information.
  - (5) Fair values of derivative financial instruments are estimated to be equal to the amounts that should be received or paid if the contracts are settled on the balance sheet date. Unrealized gains (losses) on the outstanding contracts are normally included in the estimation. The prices quoted by the financial institutions are used as a reference for estimation of the derivative financial instruments' fair values.
3. Certain vessels of GMS, an indirect subsidiary of the Company, were under investigation by the US government agency due to inadequate documentation on fuel handling. In April 2005, the Company reached an agreement with the US Department of Justice, under which GMS agreed to make a reconciliation payment of US$12,515 thousand.
